DEMOCRATIC TARIFF BILL IS NOW A LAW; PRESIDENT SIGNS IT

Drastic Cuts are Made in Many Duties; Free List Lengthy.

GOES IN EFFECT AT MIDNIGHT

Wilson Declares That Next Step is to Pass a Currency Measure That Will "Set Country's Business Free From Monopoly." Expresses His Elation.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—Surrounded by the leaders of a united democracy, President Wilson signed the Underwood-Simmons tariff bill at 9:59 o'clock last night in the White House. Simultaneously telegrams were sent to customs collectors throughout the country by the Treasury department putting into actual operation at midnight the first Democratic tariff revision since 1891.

A happy group of legislators, members of the Cabinet and friends encircled the President as he signified out down, slowly affixed his signature with two gold pens. He presented to Representative Underwood the pen that had written the word "Underwood" and the one which completed his name to Senate amendments, both of whom bowed their appreciation.

In impressive silence the President rose and delivered an extemporaneous speech that brought prolonged applause. The President declared that the journey of legislative accomplishment had only been partly completed; that a great service had been done for the rank and file of the country, but that the second step in the reconstruction of business was currency reform. He earnestly called upon his colleagues to go "the rest of the journey" with fresh impulse and ardor.

"I feel a very peculiar pleasure in what I have just done by way of taking part in the completion of a great piece of business. The feeling that I have is that we have done the rank and file of the people of this country a great service."

"I have had the accomplishment of some thing like this at heart ever since I was a boy, and I know men standing around me who can say the same thing—who have been waiting to see the chance come which it was necessary to do in order that there might be justice in the United States. This great act is, in the accomplishment of only the first step. We have set the business of this country free from those conditions which have made monopoly not only possible, but in a sense easy and natural, but there is no use taking away the conditions of monopoly if we do not take away also the power to create monopoly; and that is a financial rather than a merely criminal and economic power."

"The power to control and guide and direct the credit of the country is the power to say who shall and who shall not build up the industries of the country, in which direction they shall be built and in which direction they shall not be built. We are now about to take the second step, which will be the final step in setting the business of this country free. That is what we shall do in the currency bill, which the House has already passed, and which I have the utmost confidence the Senate will pass much sooner than some pessimistic individuals believe."

"I close 9 o'clock," explained the President, adding, "the bill is the authority given, in order that the bill might be signed after business transactions everywhere, including San Francisco, had closed for the day."

As the President rose and handed the two pens to the men who had signed the measure successfully through both houses of Congress, there was an enthusiastic outburst of handclapping.

Considerable attention was paid by the Democrats to the duties on foodstuffs. A great many of these were taken off entirely. Among the articles on the free list are cattle, sheep, horses, wheat, corn and soy beans (after December 1). Sugar duties remain unchanged until March 1, 1914, when a cut is made. It will be free after March 1, 1916. Molasses will be free after March 1, 1914.

Drastic cuts were made in other articles of food and clothing. Wools and cotton articles were cut from one-half to one-third.

In the iron and steel industry the most serious cuts were made. The protective duties being virtually swept aside. A great many articles under this schedule were put on the free list.

Customs officers all over the country are today entranced with the task of putting into effect the new Wilson-Underwood-Simmons tariff bill. Twenty treasury agents were instructed by telegram that the Payne-Aldrich bill is now on the shelf. It is expected that the new bill will be working smoothly in about 10 days, but temporarily the old tariff rates are in effect.

It is estimated that from 75 to 100 million dollars worth of merchandise is held in bonded warehouses awaiting release when the new rates are computed on it but this will be held until copies of the act have been forwarded to all customs collectors.

Downville Men Die. John W. Healy, 34 years old, and Oliver Wilson, 34 years old, are dead at Downville.

BEFORE AND AFTER IN CAREER OF THIS JEREMY AND HYDE.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—Hans Schmidt, the discredited priest, who confessed he had murdered Anna Amador and threw her body into the Hudson river a year ago, was confined to several doctors as to his sanity. The accompanying picture shows him as he appeared August 29, a few days before he committed the awful crime. He is shown with a beard in Germany before he came to America several years ago and as he is today in jail, with a growth of beard on his face and his eyes staring as though at the electric chair. Schmidt's trial will soon start.

DECLARES CROOKS INFEST THE TOWN; SAYS COPS ARE NEEDED

Official Calls Attention to Presence of Questionable Character and Points Remedy.

The statement of an officer of the law that there are today roaming the streets of Connellsville 25 men who would come under the head of "crooks" is not calculated to reassure the citizens, especially as the fact seems to be borne out by the recent wave of robberies and holdups.

This newly issued municipal protection was discussed by individual councilmen before the meeting on Friday night but no official action was taken at the meeting, the police committee being entirely without recommendations. The way the police schedule works out there are only three men to patrol the town after midnight and Chief Trotter says it is an impossibility for them to provide any real protection.

There are only eight men on the force and two are on duty in the daytime, this including the chief, who usually leaves the office about 9 P. M. Two of the remainder are on the West Side, leaving six on this side of the river, three of whom quit at midnight, so that in the early morning hours there are only three men to patrol the entire town. "The need of a man on duty at the police station all night is also pressed."

"I see several men hanging around who for years were not permitted by the police to remain here over night, if they know it," one man said. "For some months they have litted about undisturbed. It is about time for a cleanup."

LOOKING FOR ROBBERS.

LOTS OF CHESTNUTS.

View of Jones Mill Run Not Accepted Hereabouts.

The declaration credited to A. J. Miller of Jones Mills, popularly known as the "Horseshoe King" that the chestnut crop will be a total failure, does not meet with the approval of Connellsville men and boys who have been out to see how the crops are hereabouts.

They say that some of the trees are barren but others are loaded down with nuts in greater profusion than other years.

Her Park Cost Money.

MOUNT PLEASANT, Oct. 4.—H. C. Anna Shultz $12.20 for calling Appolun Seltos some uncompensated names, that being the amount of the costs in the suit brought against her before Judge Rhodes.

Minister Is Installed.

COUNCIL PASSES THE TRAFFIC ORDINANCE; AUTOISTS UNDER BAN

Town Finally Gets Power to Quickly Check Obnoxious Drivers.

FORBIDS "PARKING" DOWNTOWN

Councilman Berg Comes to Rescue of Owners and Permits Cars to be Left on Apple Street; Main and Pittsburg Streets to be Cleared.

Connellsville has at last fallen in line with other communities and the traffic ordinance which would regulate the movement of vehicles to the extent of preventing existing abuses. Council last night passed the ordinance proposed by Councilman Berg, and approved by the ordinance committee, but not before one change had been made. Councilman Berg insisted upon the elimination of Apple street from the zone in which the parking of cars is forbidden.

The ordinance passed without enthusiasm, even the fact that it had the approval of the Connellsville Auto Club not preventing quiet opposition. The knowledge that public sentiment is against the ordinance, and that the measure is not popular, but not before one change had been made.

Councilman Berg fought for the elimination of West Apple street from the parking district and won. Councilman Hattermeyer took up the case in behalf of the residents seeking to have the provision requiring them to make a full stop before crossing Bridge Street eliminated, but lost. Councilman Hattermeyer objected to any change in the measure as presented, especially to the suggestion, calling attention to the fact that Apple street traffic is already heavy, and growing more so, and declaring that an encouragement should be given motorists to block it.

The zone established by the council in which cars may not be parked, nor may cars turn, if it is necessary to back them in so doing, includes the following streets: Main, between Arch and Prospect; Bridge, between Fayette and South alley; Central alley, between Arch and Pittsburg streets; Meadow lane, between Church place and Peach street. Fifteen minutes is the time limit for cars to remain stationary in the zone, except when being loaded or unloaded. The use of the "enout" within the borough is prohibited.

Between 8 A. M. and 11 P. M., all vehicles approaching Bridge Street must come to a full stop and proceed only on signal from the cornermen. Violation of this provision provides a fine of from $5 to $20, or 12 hours' imprisonment. Violations of other sections provide a fine of $10 to $25, or 72 hours in the lockup.

Four bids were received for the repaving of the Horse bridge, all accompanied by certified checks for 10 per cent of the bid. They were: Key-Summa Planning Mill Company, $23,722; Gandy Brothers, $22,290; A. C. Stickle, $11,584; J. L. Hunsbaugh, bid not totaled. The contract was awarded to Mr. Stickle and an agreement was made to be drawn up for his signature.

The contract to grade and pave Marcell Avenue was awarded to Dugan & Miller, the only bidder.

Solicitor Munson reported that he had received a letter from the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, advising that the contract to grade and pave Marcell Avenue was awarded to Dugan & Miller, work to be begun about October 15.

Letters were received from the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, advising that the contract to grade and pave Marcell Avenue was awarded to Dugan & Miller, work to be begun about October 15.

Acting upon the request of three property-owners who agreed to waive all claims for damages in connection with it, council decided to extend the Snyder street paving 112 feet beyond Four street, if Contractor Fugis will agree to do the work under his present contract. This is to eliminate a mudhole in the hollow where it was proposed to and the paving under the original contract.

An extension of the Vine street sewer 270 feet to Anna street was ordered to be made. Orrie Hay having agreed to do the work for 50 cents a foot if the borough will buy the pipe. The sewer will be eight-inch, connecting with the present 10-inch pipe.

High weeds on North Eight street, of which complaint was made by Mr. Buttermeyer, were directed to be cut to the attention of the burgess, and the sewer committee was directed to look into the matter of a blocked sewer on Allison street. Mr. McCormick's complaint of a sewer on Fayette and Pittsburg streets, was also referred to the sewer committee.

Harry Dunn appeared before council in reference to a nuisance caused by poor drainage at the armory. Chairman W. J. Clark, of the street committee, stated that this was caused by the wall of the building not being water-tight. Council took no action.

A resident of Race street asked for an extension of the paving on that street and Paul McDonald asked council to compel other residents of Hill

The Courier's circulation today will be 11,000 24-page papers. The Connellsville merchants know how and where to advertise.

ONE PRISONER TOO MANY.

Roll of Lockup Inhabitants Shows the Lockers Full.

In police court this morning Burgess Evans had Chief Trotter take an inventory of the prisoners in the lockup to clear up a discrepancy between the number there and the number that should have been, according to the docket.

The docket called for eight but there were only seven on hand, so the chief lined up the prisoners in the corridor and as their names were called they were counted. The error was found on the docket.

MINER ENTOMBED IN PIT FOR 8 DAYS IS FREED BY RESCUERS

Condition Is Normal After Terrible Ordeal, Physicians Find.

GOES TO BED FOR A LONG REST

First Time in History of Anthracite Region Food Has Been Given Imprisoned Man to Sustain Life Until Barriers Could Be Swept Away.

By United Press.

CENTRALIA, Oct. 4.—Thomas Toposky, who was entombed in the Continental mine of the Lehigh Valley Coal Company last Friday, was rescued this morning at 7:55 o'clock after eight days' confinement underground. When brought to the surface his pulse registered 72 and his temperature was normal, a condition which the physicians consider little short of remarkable.

The dangle of the sun's rays had a peculiar effect upon Toposky. He started for an instant and then fell into the arms of Mine Inspector O'Donnell. He shrieked with joy when he saw his wife and children and fell into his knees praying. He was taken home and put to bed for a long needed sleep.

The rescue of Toposky is a feat unparalleled in anthracite mining. Other men have been rescued after being entombed but never before was one kept alive by administered stimulants to him through a tube from the outer world.

T. R. GOES AWAY

Leaves for South America in a Peewee Mood Over Speech.

By United Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt left the country today to be some six months. He will get in "fighting trim" in South America and return in time to get in the next Congressional fight.

The Colonel was in an angry mood as he boarded ship. Reports of the speech which he delivered last night before the Progressive League contained statements which he did not make and which were intended to be eliminated from the copies which were given out to the reporters. The Colonel was declared to have said that there would have been no Panama canal if he had not "taken Panama."

The unexpurgated edition of the speech also criticized the administration's case in the strategic matter of the proper course would be along the lines of "My methods in Cuba and Haiti."

These statements were part of another speech which he had decided not to deliver, the Colonel said.

By United Press.

FOOTBALL TODAY.

High School and Irwin Will Clash at 3:30 O'clock.

The football game between the High School and Irwin teams at Fayette Field this afternoon will be called at 3:30 o'clock instead of 3 o'clock, owing to the fact that the visitors will not be able to get here before 2:45 o'clock, which would not give them time to dress and get out to the field by 3 o'clock.

Last season Irwin gave the locals a hard battle, several times threatening the goal line. The final score was 19 to 6 in favor of Connellsville.

MERCHANTS READY FOR STYLE SHOW; OPENS NEXT WEEK

Town's Greatest Exhibition of Retail Offerings Begins Wednesday.

BUY BEST HERE, THEIR MESSAGE

Output of Country's Leading Manufacturers, Is on the Shelves of the Stores Here; Last Word in Fashion and Quality Is Right at Hand.

Connellsville merchants are ready for the Style Show, which begins on Wednesday and continues for three days. It will be a striking demonstration that the output of the world's leading manufacturers can be found in the stores of the retailers here. Some fashion's latest cult may be obeyed through the medium of home buying just as well as in the metropolitan marts.

It is the aim of the business men of Connellsville to demonstrate to the buyers of Fayette, Westmoreland and Somerset counties that the best buying can be done right here. The bargain day sales, now an annual feature, have demonstrated that Connellsville cannot be distanced by any town where it comes to getting real bargains. Now comes the Style Show, which will convince even the most fastidious purchaser that the merchants here are the up-to-the-minute kind.

Style Show week is expected to confirm the impressions formed by Bargain Day, and augment them by a demonstration that every day is bargain day here. It is not a price argument to counter the quality of the merchandise on display speaks for itself. Everything is in the mode, and the best that can be obtained anywhere.

In The Courier today, and again on Monday, the merchants of Connellsville have a message for the buyer, at home and in surrounding communities. The advertising pages are a storehouse of information concerning the goods these business men have to offer. The biggest bargain is carried all the time. The biggest department store in the largest city pays no closer attention to seasons and styles than do the Connellsville shopkeepers.

It is predicted that the crowds of the bargain days will be exceeded Style Show week. People of the Connellsville region read the advertisements in the newspapers; they are using the papers more generally every day as shopping guides. In today's issue of The Courier may be found where to buy any reasonable article that is on sale

THE DEMOCRATIC TARIFF

The Democratic Tariff bill is not statecraft; it is politics, and bad politics at that.

The Democratic party has been committed to the policy of a Tariff for revenue only as against the Republican policy of a Tariff for revenue with protection to American industries. The Democratic policy was so disastrous to the country in 1892 and the years following that it would perhaps never have been seriously revived again save for an irrational theory that somewhere and somehow the Republican policy was responsible for the high cost of living which the country complains of.

The Democrats in national convention hopful of success at last by the hopeless division of the Republicans, trimmed the sails of their platform to every popular breeze. On the subject of the Tariff the platform said:

The high cost of living is a serious problem in every American home. This Republican party, in its platform, attempts to escape from responsibility for present conditions by denying that they are due to a Protective Tariff. We take issue with them on this subject, and charge that excessive prices result in a large measure from the high Tariff laws enacted and maintained by the Republican party and from transactions and commercial conspiracies fostered and encouraged by such laws, and we assert that no substantial relief can be secured for the people until import duties on the necessities of life are materially reduced and these conspiracies broken up.

With the enactment of the Democratic Tariff bill, come Democratic doubts of the ability to effect a reduction in the cost of living. Prices of the necessities of life are going up instead of down. The effects of the new Tariff upon American industry remain to be seen. Manufacturers generally are frankly fearful. The steel and iron trade is hopeful of adjusting itself to the new conditions, but with selling agents of foreign manufacturers already in the field it seems certain that an adjustment must mean lower prices and the inevitable accompanying of lower wages. Whether these changes are trifling or serious, they involve the general principle that the effect of the new Tariff will be lower prices and lower wages. Against this we have the tantamount Democratic confession that the cost of living is likely to be higher instead of lower.

The Democratic policy of the present promise to be no when the Tariff
Democratic policy of the early '90's.

As a revenue measure, the Democratic Tariff bill is admitted by its framers to be deficient, necessitating the enactment of the arbitrary and unjust income tax law. In their efforts to strike down Protection, the Democrats have been willing to sacrifice revenue to such an extent that direct taxation is necessary to supply the deficiency.

The Democratic Tariff bill was framed and passed in a manner most undemocratic. The protests of the American manufacturers were accorded a cursory and unheeded different hearing, and the minority in Congress was ignored in committee and as far as possible on the floor.
The bill is grossly sectional. Such protection as it contains is reserved for Democratic sections and industries. The iron and steel industries of Republican Pennsylvania are practically barred to Free Trade. An Senator from Pennsylvania, who forcibly expressed it, "while the Wyoming rain is invited to face the inclemency of the approaching winter unprotected by any duty, the Texas goat living in a more tropical and beneficial climate has thrown around him the blessings of the Republican protective rates."

The Democratic Tariff bill will do more to rattle the Republican party and write the public of accidental Democratic power than any other single circumstance which may occur between now and 1916.

The West Virginia Workmen's Compensation law is being generally accepted by employers.

Crow advocated the passage of a similar law in Pennsylvania because it was practicable and equitable, and opposed another bill because it would have been impracticable and ruinous in its operation. Those who say that Senator Crow was opposed to Workmen's Compensation are either silly or designing.

It was the Democratic doom that Thomas Woodrow signed.

B. & O. engine drivers are requested by the management to cut out the "pots." The public has protested against this unnecessary noise for a long time. Perhaps the complaint of the railroad management will be more effective.

It is reported that President Wilson used two pens to sign the Democratic Tariff bill, and it was a poor day for Penna. too.

It is hard to reconcile the drawing of lots by tie-candidates for nominations under the new primary law with the laws against games of chance, but the new primary law seems to be a law unto itself.

When hold-ups are added to housebreakings, it would seem that more protection is due the citizens.

Medical inspection of the Connelville schools seems assured. The doctors will do some charity work, but it will be money well invested.

The Democratic Tariff bill and the mushroom season come in together.

The prevalence of boils among the Connellville youth indicates that the boys have been altogether reckless regarding that great national issue, the high cost of living, and now they have to pay nature's tariff.

Near-Congressman Berkeley made his brilliant high finance finish in Fayette county.

The humble bicycle is trying to establish its road rights against the haughty auto.

The Westmoreland Democrats didn't get anything from the plum tree west.
Westmoreland is Colonel Garvey's home county.

If Pennsylvania is called to arms, its 150,000 hunters might take the field at once.

The Panama Canal has stood the severe test of nature's convulsions.
The job is evidently honest as well as clever.

Secretary Daniels says it is unfortunate that the country's leadership forgets abroad. It might also be unsafe.

Railroad travel is getting uncertain.

Store Open Every Evening Till 8 O'clock.

Why Not Wear Advertised Shoes?

TAKE, FOR EXAMPLE—

A man prepares for dinner—he shaves himself with an advertised safety razor, using an advertised soap, and finishes with an advertised face powder. Then he puts on advertised underwear, advertised linen, evening dress made by an advertised tailor. Then after his dinner he is driven in his advertised automobile to an advertised show.

WHY NOT WEAR ADVERTISED SHOES—

Show us an up-to-date merchant in Connelville and you will find he advertises. Take your newspaper and look through it, and note whether the progressive merchant doesn't advertise. Every day the advertised line is proving the unadvertised line a little nearer to the wall. The non-advertiser used to fight to get business—today he must fight to hold it.

Why not wear Walk-Overs, Men? or Queen Quality, Women?—They are always good.

The Fashion Exhibits of Supreme Importance and Interest Presented During

Commencing Wednesday October 8

STYLE SHOW WEEK

Commencing Wednesday October 8

Are Staged in Kobacker's Millinery and Wearing Apparel Salons

You are invited to inspect this exposition of the world's most attractive Fall and Winter Fashions, with the freedom that surrounds a display in any art museum of fame.

This will be a truly comprehensive exhibit of authoritative and accepted modes, gathered from the great fashion sources of two continents.

During "Style Show Week" we will exhibit and sell the newest European and American creations for autumn and winter at the moderate practical prices which have given added illumination to this store's pre-eminence.

The most wonderful and complete array of exclusive and beautiful "style" merchandise we have ever assembled at a season's beginning. It will be presented for your inspection in a store beautiful as befits the occasion and will demonstrate the unique position we maintain as the leading exponents of fashion.

Tailored and Fancy Millinery, Street Dresses, Evening Costumes, Dinner Gowns, Dancing Frocks, Coats, Wraps, Motoring Apparel, Waists, Blouses, Lingerie, Corsets, Misses' and Children's Apparel.

We will also present the newest and richest creations from manufacturers of silk and wool suitings and coatings, cotton dress fabrics, trimmings, laces, ribbons, gloves and all other classes of dress accessories, including hosiery, underwear, jewelry, neckwear, etc.

Style Show in Our Enlarged Millinery Dep't

With a complete rearrangement and the installation of new fixtures, new carpets, new draperies, etc., we now have a most complete millinery department in appointments and merchandise. Under able management our millinery section has brought to this city the experience and style gained by constant association with the largest and most complete millinery sections in New York and Chicago. Nothing has been overlooked to make this section complete. Even the millinery designing rooms have been enlarged and improved to produce the increased number of hats this new department will dispose of during this season. More expert designers and makers have been engaged this season than ever before. Experienced and courteous salespeople to give prompt, intelligent service. It will be a pleasure to visit this new department.

A Trip to Paris Has Been Made in order to bring to Connellsville all the late and popular styles and ideas. Our exhibit during Style Show Week will include copies from prominent Paris artists as Rebeaux, Talbot et Bert, Malson Lewis, Caroline, Mme. Loutson, Dether Meyer, Mme. Gergette and others.

Our New York Office assures us the best produced by the leading New York fashion creators.

Our daily correspondence keeps us in touch with every style change. A recent letter informs us that velvet and plush hats in black, with soft crowns and flared effects are much in evidence. Colors such as petrol, basket, russet, green, royal purple, telenegre and bisque are most popular. Colors are perhaps more noteworthy than the changes in shapes as practically any becoming shape if not too large will be smart. Rich fur and touches of marten are seen on many hats and the chief material of these hats harmonize with the suit or gown with which it is to be worn.

Chic Hats Designed and Foreign Models Modified in Our Own Work Rooms.

In addition to the late foreign style shown our own designers have originated smart hats that will be admitted and worn by many of the discriminating women of Connellsville. Moderation of prices noticeable. Although our display of medium and high priced millinery is unusual in its beauty and variety of styles we will present equally as many and fully as beautiful hats at $1.00 to $15.

WHAT WOMEN WILL SEE AT THEIR FAVORITE WAIST SECTION.

With America's foremost waist makers confining their fashion creations to this, in Connellsville, is it any wonder that knowing women have accustomed themselves to coming here for new waists? Hundreds of the freshest and daintiest of new autumn waists are ready for women's critical inspection.

"Royal" Silk Shirts, Voile and Crepe Waists, White Crepe de Chine Waists and Messaline Silk Waists—Unusual Values.

A Display of Women's and Misses' Fall and Winter Apparel Equal to Any Presented this Season in New York or Any Other American Fashion Center. Paris Adaptations and New York Styles Shown.

The styles of this season are more beautiful and distinguished, yes and more practical in keeping with the demands of the time and the requirements of the modern woman than ever before. Richness of fabric, perfectness of colorings, variety and beauty of trimmings, and the introduction of some exquisite and new effects taken from the Oriental, the directorate and the Balkan characterize the exposition to which we most cordially invite you.

"Style Show Week" is Just As Important to Men as to Women. A FULL GROWN MAN'S STORE.

A store alive to the dress needs of all ages and conditions of manhood—a store to which you can come knowing that the world's best in everything wearable is always ready for you—where goods of known high quality only are handled and when a saving of money is assured on every article you buy. Make "The Big Store" your store and we'll make you glad by dressing you best at least cost.

You are sure of a stylish, well lined and trimmed, all wool suit at about any price you wish to pay. You can't have the regret of paying more than you started out to pay. Our stock is complete. All styles and sizes in Suits and Overcoats.

You will like the clothes; you will like the price; a store of economy.

Misses' Juniors and Children's Wear Featured Style Show Week

Modishly designed Dresses, Coats, Suits, etc., for the young girl budding into womanhood—her younger sister, the school girl—and the "Flower of the Family."

We don't forget youth in the press of our great business. We have mastered the art of putting style into their garments as we do in those for their elders. We can talk style by the chapter, but tell here things just as vitally important to mothers—Savings!

New Fall Suits at $18.75

Women who have been wanting a radical change of fashion and the unusual in tailored suits will enthuse over these stunning models that we offer at this popular price. It is a buying opportunity of great importance because we arranged with the maker of regular $25.00 suits to make these up for us at a special price providing we took a large lot. Suits that would ordinarily bring at least one-third more in the height of the season are offered to you now at..... $18.75

The suits are the new style coat, with long cutaway, lined throughout with guaranteed satin. The materials are favorites, including wool poplin, chevrons, diagonals, mammoth worsteds, serges and mixtures. Colors are navy, black, tan, taupe and new blue.

It is Not Exactly a Style Show We Are Going to Give You in the Dry Goods Store.

It is better. We are going to show our finest merchandise and at the same time sell it at special prices. We will have new specials each day in this department. On every counter in this busy department you will find special offerings. Watch for them. And remember, it is now time to purchase your Fall and Winter requirements.

A McCall Pattern Representative direct from The McCall Company, New York, will be at our Pattern Counter during October 8, 9 and 10, to explain to our customers the splendid results to be accomplished by the use of McCall Patterns.

Come and interview her and get the benefit of her knowledge. It is not necessary to buy anything.

Free—McCall Doll Pattern—Free. Every little girl who calls at our Pattern Counter October 8, 9 or 10, will receive a dainty McCall doll pattern FREE. All are welcome—each pattern is for a complete doll dress.

Footwear—Style and Quality Plus Moderate Price

Some people think more of footwear quality than of price. Others give price first consideration.

All stores try to make prices right or at least appear right. Not all, however, are so particular about quality. This store aims to give the maximum quality at a minimum price.

This feature of Kobacker merchandising costs us something, but we assume that cost, and do not require you to share it. We can afford it for the additional business it brings and the patronage it holds.

"Red Cross," "John Kelly" and "Sorrisi" Shoes for Women—"Stetson," "Florsheim" and "Kobacker" Shoes for Men are standards of excellence. In style, fit, comfort and wear they are the equals of any other ready made shoes at any price. Also complete lines of Boys', Misses' and Children's footwear.

Connellsville Style Show Week CONNELLSVILLE, PA.

ALL CONNELLSVILLE STORES HAVE Banded TOGETHER FOR THE PURPOSE OF CONCLUSIVELY PROVING THE ADVANTAGE OF SHOPPING IN THIS CITY AT ALL TIMES AND ESPECIALLY DURING STYLE SHOW WEEK. THE STORES WILL COMBINE THEIR NEW SEASON'S OPENINGS, THE GENERAL EVENT TAKING THE NAME OF "STYLE SHOW WEEK."

The Purpose of Merchants Style Show Week

IS Connellsville, through its Progressive Merchants, capable of meeting every purchasing demand that may be made upon it by the people who live in the city and around it? "Merchants Style Show Week" is the answer. Is the market in this city supplied to the extent that it can furnish any article, whether necessity or luxury, to the fifty thousand people who live in the territory properly contributory to Connellsville? "Merchants Style Show Week" is the answer.

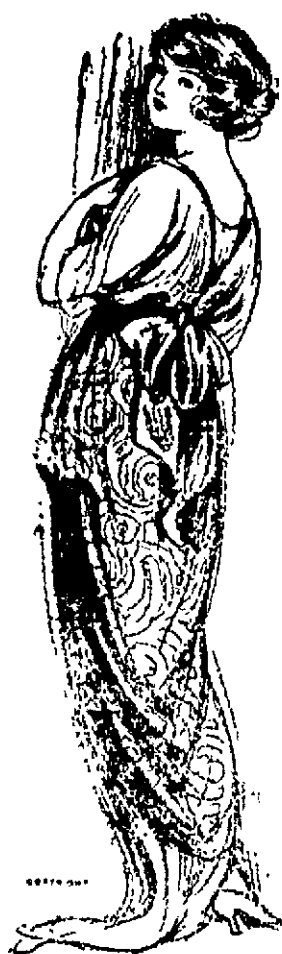

Can the merchants of Connellsville compete with other cities in quality of merchandise and economy of expenditure? "Merchants Style Show Week" will be the answer.

The merchants of Connellsville know the answers to these questions. They know this is the logical market for fifty thousands of persons; they are aware that their supply will rank with any city in the state; they are sure they produce the quality at satisfactory prices--but they want the people of the surrounding territory to share this knowledge and profit by it. Hence it is that a "Merchants Style Show Week" will be held in this city from Wednesday, October 8th, to Friday, October 10th.

We cordially invite every reader of this newspaper to attend the "Merchants Style Show" of Connellsville. We want you to personally appreciate the progress and developments that have been made by the Connellsville stores whose names appear below. We don't want to emphasize our virtues too much, but prefer to have you come and see just what you may expect from the Connellsville merchants in the future. You will find the various stores more inviting than ever, both from a decorative point and from the character of merchandise.

To enumerate all the lines carried in the various stores would necessitate many newspaper pages the size of this, but we would leave with you the thought that Connellsville stores carry a complete stock that will satisfy every taste and suit every purse. In some instances a more varied assortment than most city stores, because we must take the place of several of them in the eyes of the average shopper. Certain it is that Connellsville stores have done much to spread the fame of the city and to give Style Show Week an importance the memory of which will be undimmed by the time another Style Show Week makes its appearance. We welcome all to the sights and advantages of this Style Show Week.

The plan is based upon the civic spirit engendered by the recent Board of Commerce campaign and is designed to demonstrate to the buyers of this community that Connellsville is the place in which to trade to the best advantage and with the greatest economy.

GOING IN FOR DUCKS.

Early Birds are Working Out on the Bowling Alley.

Though Connellsville does not go in for bowling much before the middle of October or the beginning of November, some of the enthusiasts over this sport are already rolling a game or two a week to get the summer's stiffness out of their muscles. The Temple alleys, conducted by John Coughenour, in the basement of the Masonic building, have been open for two weeks.

Plans are being made for tournaments such as have been held during previous seasons but they will not be begun before the fever really gets hold of the bowlers. The matches will be in duckpins, there being few temple enthusiasts here. Matches are also contemplated with out of town teams.

Seaside Woman on Committee.
Mrs. G. C. McDowell of Seaside was appointed a member of the press committee at the annual convention of the Women's Board of Home and Foreign Missions of the United Evangelical Church which opened Wednesday at Berlin.

"MASTER MIND" PLEASES

Capable Company Presents Unusual Drama at the Solson.

"Clock" plays having had their run along the Great White Way, are now being inflicted upon the country circuits. "The Master Mind," which appeared at the Solson Theatre last evening, was one of these. On Broadway last season, plays of this kind were epidemic, and have about run their course. Broadway is now getting a dose of dramas on the social evil, which will strike the road next year.

"The Master Mind" was presented by a capable company. It reminds one, to some extent, of a certain novel by Gouverneur Morris which was published recently. An evening's entertainment was furnished, with sufficient comedy to keep the play from being tiresome. Although the duel of wits between the "master mind" and the district attorney was left principally to the imagination, the plot worked itself out so that it was easily understood.

Willis Granger was without question the most capable man on the stage, in the role of the "master mind." H. Sinclair, as Walwright, the district attorney, was handicapped by a severe cold. He was not particularly impressive, but that may account for it. The others of the play were well qualified for their roles.

Bottle Keith as Lucine was charming, and acted her part well, particularly the difficult scenes in the third and fourth acts. The scenery and costumes were ample.

CHICAGO AND NEW YORK.

Famous Makers of the Finest Clothes,
Ready to Wear

FINE CLOTHES MAKING is the business of this great concern. No other ready-to-wear garments so readily compare with custom-tailoring of the highest grade. Every garment that leaves their factory is hand-tailored absolutely. Even the raw wool is selected with great care; the woven cloth is critically inspected for flaws, and if it passes is shrunk to perfection before laid out on the cutter's table. You never see wrinkles and "puckers" in Hirsh Wickwire clothes; nor a badly set collar; nor an ill fitting sleeve. You never find the trouser leg of a Hirsh Wickwire suit out of line and "walking away from the other," as a young man quaintly expressed it.

SIMPLIFIED DRESS GUIDE

It has been rightly said that all new styles are not in good taste, so you will find in our collection of Hirsh Wickwire suits only those models that represent the careful approval of the most expert fashion critics.

For General Wear the most particular dresser may choose any one of the styles here, except of course, a dress garment, and know that he is correctly and handsomely clothed.

For Formal Evening Dress—All occasions after six o'clock—Full Dress.

For Informal Evening Dress the Tuxedo is correct.

For Day Dress, afternoon suits and all social occasions before six o'clock, the morning coat is appropriate.

There's a Charm About Burgesser Hats That Women Can "Feel"

WITH the BURGESSER HATS—models exclusive to Wright-Metzler's in Connellsville—and our own distinctive modes, the woman visiting Connellsville's first Style-Show can choose her hat from among the best styles of the season with the assurance that she's not likely to find others elsewhere that "might be more becoming."

The Salient Features of Burgesser Hats—and Ours

1. Velvet Predominates, and Plush is favored.
2. Feathers, modest to luxurious, abound.
3. Novelty Plumes, slender and scant, is notable.
4. A picturesque but dignified softness in shapes.
5. Ribbons, when used at all are used lavishly.
6. Flowers are large, brilliant and used singly.

Come! The Millinery Room is ready for you. There's much to see now that wasn't here three weeks ago. This newer display is impressive.

Hats This Season

require art in the wearing, as well as in the making. For the hat in the hand acquires its grace, charm, chic, dignity—or whatever effect is sought—according to its posing on the head. So form no opinion, voice no likes or dislikes, until you, or some one for you, places the hat at its proper slant.

Note these illustrations of correctly posed Burgesser hats.

IN BURGESSER HATS—

- the same luxuriance in feathers;
  - the same ultra sparseness in novelty effects;
  - the same generous loopings of ribbons;
  - the same extravagant tilts and swerves
- that distinguish elegant hats that cost a great deal more.

Millinery Room—second floor.

New Dress Trimmings and Buttons: Laces, Etc.

Everything That Has The Merit of Beauty, Quality, Novelty or newness to Recommend it is Here in Greater Variety and More Extensive Than Ever. Another Such Collection Will Be Impossible To Find.

IN TRIMMINGS the tendency is toward richness, rather than any great elaboration, a mode doubtless brought about by the decided pronouncement for color. Braid Appliques in motifs may be used separately or together. Ribbon Girdles greatly enhance the beauty of the afternoon and evening gowns. Buttons in odd shapes, designs and colors will be used extensively. Pearl Ornaments, Marabou, etc., are favored.

SHEER LACES LEAD. Though the heavier laces are favored for some forms of trimming, the season's favorites incline strongly towards the airy, shadowy laces which seem scarcely woven by other than fairy hands. This tendency is notable in Venice Laces, Shadow Nets, Chiffons, Flouncings, All-Over Laces, Oriental Nets, etc. Gold and silver laces are seen here at their loveliest. They are extremely delicate of texture.

A Big Feature of THE STYLE SHOW

The Lovely Silks Exclusive Woolens and Rich Trimmings

At Wright-Metzler's—Connellsville's foremost Dry Goods Store.

After you have visited the other stores about town and examined their dress fabrics and trimmings, come to this exhibit and see truly wonderful textures and exquisite garniture.

Looking over these beautiful weaves, and gold, silver and richly colored embellishment, this collection will seem to be a continuation to completion of what you previously saw elsewhere.

SILKS. The exhibit is a presentation of silks which have been ordained leaders for autumn and winter.

We overheard a woman remark that the textures brought to her mind the old fairy tale of the prince who set off to find a carpet soft and fine enough to be drawn through the eye of a needle. To her it seemed that the manufacturers had some such object in view when they determined the texture of the new silks—filmy, mysterious weaves of silk and metal and velvet, colorful harmonies that stir a very rapture—above and beyond any that have preceded.

Some are exact duplicates of the weaves used by notable French designers; others are direct imports in greater variety than we've ever brought in. Of the latter, there is not too much of any one design or color, making for greater exclusiveness to the purchaser.

Prominent in the display are:

Exquisite Broche Silks, Moires in Novelty Tones, Bridal Silks—Many Shades, Gold and Silver Vestings, Plain Silks and Black Mandarin and Egyptian Silks. Silks for Combination Use.

WOOLENS. Black and colored dress fabrics in autumn's prettiest display. Our collection is divided into three distinct groups:

1. The exclusive novelties which will be found in town nowhere but here. Rare fabrics which appear only at the beginning of a new season, and, once sold cannot be duplicated. These weaves, masterfully designed and exquisitely woven, have reached new heights in beauty and daring, vivid color having combined with originality of design to give them an individuality hitherto undreamed of.

2. The between sorts—those not too conservative, yet not extreme. These are the medium priced weaves, gloriously tinted and in textures unexcelled for draping effects.

3. The staple serges, broadcloths, etc.

WRIGHT-METZLER COMPANY PRESENTS A MOVING PICTURE OF THE SMARTEST, NEWEST MERCHANDISE

Some of Our Famous Foreign Hats Come From Bill & Caldwell

Importers of Hats in Demand

FIVE-EIGHT-EIGHT BROADWAY, NEW YORK

BILL & CALDWELL'S business is to supply alert hat-teries with snappy, indemand, foreign-made headwear. They do it thoroughly, as our stocks readily show. They select one live merchant in a town and give him service—the kind that brings smart dressers flocking to his doors. That's what has happened here. We never knew a hat business to grow like ours; it's thriving like sound grain in rich soil. These foreign-made hats at their price put it all over our domestic headwear for men. Might sound disloyal to say it—but the hats themselves prove it. Hats we sell at $2.50 and $3.00 couldn't be turned out—quality, style and durability considered—in American plants at near the price.

IT'S THE STYLE they put in them. The right crown height, the correct brim width, the "just-right" band width for that particular hat. Put it on the right head—ah, a difference! All the proportions even up and change the man's whole appearance. They are easy on the head, too. Some of them are for rough weather—and for rough usage. Those you can't damage at one throw! So they appeal to travelers. Notice that list of names on the opposite side of the picture. See that one of them is in your next hat.

Here Are the Moderate Priced Good Clothes Made Especially for You, Mister Man

Michaels, Stern & Co.

A STORE LIKE OURS, most particularly the MEN'S CLOTHING end of it, with a clientele of patrons ranging from the man who wants to spend little on his apparel, to the man who says "something exclusive, absolutely, and hang the price," must have a varied assortment of clothes. That store, if it expects to build up trade, must select its modest-priced garments with extreme care.

The one to the left is a counterpart of the man next to the newsboy in the group picture; and the separate, right-hand view shows one of the popular, medium-priced Michaels, Stern Company overcoats.

The photographer frequents gathering places of men, and when he "spots" a distinctive Michaels, Stern suit of overcoat, immediately snaps it. Illustrations are made for the newspapers and people see the "hang" of these clothes in actual service.

A MAN'S SUIT AT $15.00 TO $20.00, can be just "fair-to-middling" nine times to "simon pure quality" once; and, if it belongs to the former class, nine out of ten men will go to that store just once. So, our clothing men put their heads together and got down to brass tacks on one phase of the clothing business. They hit the nail squarely on the head through an agreement with

Every Woman Who Visits Connellsville's Style Show will See Tailored Costumes and Wraps, Street Dresses, Dancing Frocks, Afternoon and Evening Gowns at Wright-Metzler's That Excel any Similar Exhibit In Town

Women's Tailored Suits

FASHION smiles on the suits with their collars and cuffs edged with fur; on those that combine different materials and colors; on the wide-top, narrow-foot skirt (the "peg"); the slashed and slashless kinds; and the short-front, long-back coat—the outaway model.

Other new features noticed this season—and accepted—

1. The waistcoat, separate from the suit, the vestee and the vestee effect—both attached to the suit-coat.
2. The "cut" of the suits. They seem to have more dash—more chic—than in previous seasons.
3. The soft-woven fabrics that seem to fall naturally into pleasing drapes; and
4. The drapes themselves—a distinct improvement over any we've seen before.

Suits in smart to gorgeous modes, or toned down to plain-tailored simplicity, are here, in bigger-than-ever assortments for women and girls. Prices cover many distinct styles.

Suits in 32 Styles at $25.00 Each

—and they are values that will open your eyes and purse. Models for women—regularly built or stout; for girls in school to sister in office or at home; and models you'll be in a hurry to try on, they look so becoming.

Have these suits as you want them: perfectly plain tailored, with the coat corners rounded a tiny bit; or with as much dash in them as will go into refined clothes for critical people.

These are suits of superior style, fit and finish, tailored in a high-class way of high-class materials—Bianches, Cheviots, Nub Chevots, Matisse, Bruche Weaves, Wool Poplins, With Cord, Plazoidal Cheviot and Men's Wear Serge.

Have these suits as you want them: perfectly plain tailored, with the coat corners rounded a tiny bit; or with as much dash in them as will go into refined clothes for critical people.

One style here that is notably fine for women who wear tailored suits constantly, is a 3 or 4 button outaway model, midsaline or satin lined, with skirt draped or plain.

INCLUDE this Exposition among the things you wish to see first during the Connellsville Merchants' Style Show. It has been a matter of painstaking effort to assemble this wonderful collection of refined apparel for women and girls.

The developments of fashion up to this moment are revealed to you in this complete display on the second floor. What you see—you may buy—right here in the store, and at a fair, fixed price. Wright-Metzler's endeavor is to acquaint you with the sort of merchandise handled regularly; it is not a display loaned to us for exhibition purposes.

The result justifies our careful search for Things Beautiful—it is the greatest, most elaborate and representative gathering of its kind that we have had, and exceeds any other exhibit in the city. Will you honor us with your presence?

QUALITY. The Glove Rubber is the recognized standard everywhere.

STYLE. The highest class trade patronizes and endorses the Glove Brand of rubber footwear.

FIT. No rubber fitted too short or too narrow can give service. The great variety in our stock equips us to fit any standard shoe on the market.

HIGH HEELS. are extremely hard to fit at stores of limited rubber stock. Here we handle such matters in a highly satisfactory manner.

ARE YOU particular of the winter-time and sloppy weather footwear that saves your dress shoes and protects your health?—particular of their style, service and durability? Wright-Metzler's always exerts itself to do even better than usual, and in the matter of rubber goods—overshoes in several styles from the "Everstick" to storm models; gum boots for all the uses and users—knee to hip length; warm Areties for men; and a particularly fine sports boot, all rubber and laced—the enlarged collection, ready now, is beyond anything we've had, or seen, at the various prices. There are plenty of stores selling cheaper grades than we handle: and their quality is on a par with their prices. In ours you can figure on more wear to the square inch than is pressed into any other equally priced health-protecting footwear; and the best styles that ever kept two feet dry. All rubbers are expertly fitted to give the maximum of wear and good looks.

BOOTS fitted too big will wrinkle badly and prove unsatisfactory. We make certain that the right size is in the bundle you carry away with you.

BOOT LININGS. Our boots are lined for warmth, comfort and general hygiene with a material not found in many of the boots usually handled in other stores.

SELLING REGULARLY IN OUR 24c GROCERY AT

THAT yellow package with its pleasing aroma; and lettered "ARBUCKLE'S" in bright red, with "ARIOSA COFFEE" in black on white, was as familiarly known in the boyhood and girlhood days of the oldest readers of this sketch as it is today to the child asking "but what's the angel on there for, mamma?"

Arbuck was the pioneer of packaged roasted coffees, placed on the market in the late sixties, when green coffees were bought universally not only by dealers, but by consumers, who did their own roasting. The changes introduced by Arbuckle & Co. at that time have revolutionized the coffee business, for no green coffee is now ever bought for home use. Since then millions of pounds of Arbuck have been sold, and it is now known and used in every city, town and hamlet in the United States and in spite of its competition, it is still by far the most largely sold of all brands of packaged coffee. It is now, as it has always been, an honest coffee at an honest price.

Varnish is more elastic, more durable, easier to apply and less affected by moisture or heat than ordinary varnish, because of the large proportion of Chinese oil used in its manufacture. This oil is the same as used by the Chinese people to make their boats waterproof, and give flexibility and long life to the varnishes with which their bamboo work is finished.

Here's the "BRADLEY" Family of Fine, Fashionable Sweaters

You should have a sweater handy at all times, and the BEST kind to have is a BRADLEY. No other makes that we have seen, presents these noteworthy features:

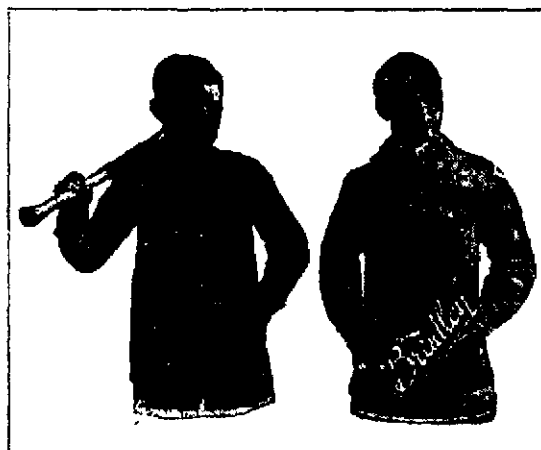

1. The well-fitting, stay-in-shape shoulders.
2. Elastic welted pockets.
3. Reinforced buttonholes.
4. Snuggly fitting cuffs.
5. Generous size sleeves.
6. High grade yarns.
7. Color-fastness, and
8. General smart appearance.

You can see some of these good points in the illustrations.

Too bad we can't publish a picture of the fine, big home of BRADLEY SWEATERS. In the pretty, healthful summer resort town of DEHAVAN, WISCONSIN, is located the biggest and finest sweater mills in America. In them is made the BRADLEY sweaters, mufflers and caps on special machines attended by hearty, cheerful, intelligent American workers.

The products of these mills are sent all over the world, and they seem to carry the spirit of their creation with them.

Our Stock of Bradley Sweaters for Men, Women and Children is Complete, Finely Assorted and Fairly Priced.

The many uses for Sweater Coats—motor-ing, fall and winter sports, indoor wear and for those constantly in the open—has given them an enviable place in the year-round wardrobes of men and women alike. And has, as a consequence, inspired the designers to put style and durability and color-fastness in them. There isn't a stock in town to equal ours.

Bradley Sweaters, Caps and Mufflers are Made of Wool, Silk and Mercerized Egyptian Yarns in Various Textures

The Sweater Coats most in demand here range from the cheaper grade that contains enough cotton to make them wear well to pure worsted yarn models of various weights. The garments are roomy, snug, neat fitting and not bulky. They wear indefinitely, can be laundered as often as desired, and retain their shape as long as you wear them. Some people prefer a sweater to an overcoat for all winter wear.

SWEATER STYLES

are practically the same for men and women. About the only thing that distinguishes them is that women's sweaters button to the left—men's to the right.

Necks are high or V-shape; collars are roll, buttoning snug when desired; or small and square, fastening high.

Many styles have two pockets. Cuffs fit the wrists snugly and the garments fit neat or loose.

STAGE ALL SET FOR BATTLE OF GIANTS OF ATHLETICS

Who Will Win? the Question That Is Perplexing Fandom.

Opinion About Evenly Divided as to Mack's and McGraw's Chances.

WHO will win the world's series?

That is the question which just now is perplexing every baseball enthusiast in the country, to say nothing of a host of others whose interest in the national game is only roused out of its slumber at this season of the year. For weeks the possibilities and percentages of the players and teams have been discussed in every phase until opinion in the world of the diamond is about equally divided between Connie Mack's redoubtable baseball aggregation and the batted warriors of John McGraw.

Meanwhile the stage has been set, and all fandom is on tiptoe with expectancy. Half its Argus eyes are fixed on Philadelphia, the battleground of the Athletics, and half on the Polo grounds, the scene of the opening game of the series which shall decide whether Father Knickerbocker or the Quaker City shall wear the gaudy of "world's champions of 1913."

First Game in New York.

When a few days ago President Harry Hempstead of the New York club won the toss that decided the question of the time and place of the opening game at the meeting of the national baseball commission in Philadelphia, and Tuesday, Oct. 7, was named as the date, it marked the third consecutive year that the scene of the first game of the big series has been in New York city. Two years ago the Giants won the opening contest from the Athletics, their opponents now.

JOHN MCGRAW

Last year the Boston Red Sox captured the first game.

The question as to the place and date of the initial clash between the big league pennant winners having been decided, President Lynch of the National league named William Klem and Charles Richter as the umpires of his organization for the series, while President Johnson named Thomas H. Connolly and John J. Egan to represent the American league.

The rules for the games of the series are practically the same as before, except that in case of a tie game the teams will not remain in the city where the tie occurred to play it off, but will adhere to the schedule of alternating each day between the two cities. In case of postponements the teams will remain in the city where the game was postponed until it is played.

Each Club Sells Tickets.

Another difference between the conduct of the present series and those of previous years is that the national commission will not have charge of the distribution of tickets. It having left this important matter to the respective clubs.

All games in the series will begin at 2 o'clock. The gates at the parks will be opened at 10 o'clock or earlier, while the bands will strike up at 11 o'clock to keep the early birds entertained until the players take the diamond at 1 o'clock for batting and field practice.

In New York the following prices prevail: Boxes accommodating four persons, $25; upper grand stand, reserved, $3; admission, entire lower grand stand, unreserved, $2; bleacher seats, $1. In Philadelphia the prices will be: Box seats, $5 each; reserved seats in main grand stand, $3; reserved seats in right and left field pavilions, $2; bleacher seats, $1.

Neither club will be permitted to construct extra stands on the field. No spectators will be permitted to overtop on the fields, and there will be no ground rules.

The official scorers will be Francis C. Richter of Philadelphia and J. G. Taylor Spink of St. Louis.

The fact that there will be no ground rules is an innovation. In the past spectators have been allowed to crowd on the field and all over the ground as long as they had paid their money, which caused ropes to be placed on sale and made hits into too crowd.

field except the players, and every hit will go for what it is worth.

As no tickets will be sold through the mail, all applications for the series must be made in person to the secretary of either club. As already mentioned, the national commission will have nothing to do with the distribution of tickets, and each club will handle its own tickets and in its own way.

Santa not sold on personal application, it was officially decided, are to be placed on sale by both clubs on the day before the opening game of the series.

Seats For Three Games.

All the reserved seat tickets are to be sold for three games instead of one only. In other words, each ticket bears coupons for three games. In case only two games are played in any

PLAYERS WHO WILL CUT BIG MELON.

The players eligible to take part in the world's series follow:

New York—Horns, Cooper, Crandall, Doyle, Demaree, Fletcher, Frumme, Grant, Herock, Hartley, Marquard, Miller, Mathewson, Morrison, Myers, Nelson, Norkie, Robinson, McCormick, Shaffer, Snodgrass, Thorpe, Trosen, Wilson and Schupp.

Philadelphia—Schang, Lapp, Thomas, Bender, Plank, Coombs, Houck, Brown, Shawkey, Peacock, Bush, Weycott, Melhies, Collins, Barry, Baker, Orr, Davis, Lavan, O'Rourke, Strunk, D. Murphy, D. Murphy, Walsh and Doley.

On a basis of the money involved last year, when the grand total reached $400,833, of which the players divided $117,571.70, the men on the winning team this year will carry off $4,000 each and the losers about $2,500 each.

city the money for the third contest will be refunded.

The series beginning in New York will be resumed in Philadelphia the day following, and the games will alternate daily.

Should there be a postponement due to rain before five innings have been played, the teams will remain in the city where the postponement occurred until a legal game is played, but should a game result in a tie after five innings are played, the regular schedule will be adhered to and the next contest played in the other city.

This year the players who participate in the world series will not be allowed to write baseball articles, nor will they be permitted to grant the use of their name over articles pertaining to the series.

This was decided by the national commission at their recent meeting, and it was pointed out to them that a number of players had already contracted with newspapers to write such articles. President Ben Johnson of the American league, speaking for the commission, stated that the players having such contracts would have to annul them, even if the breaking of these contracts resulted in suits being brought against the national commission.

No Baseball Litterateurs.

But while this decision comes as a blow to many of the players, who in years past added fat wads to their bank rolls through their literary efforts, it can hardly be said to detract from the interest in the great contest, which exists wherever baseball is played or news printed.

Ever since the Athletics clinched their pennant and the Giants proved their leadership in the National league the makeup of the two rival teams for the world's championship has presented an interesting study.

Experts have figured out that McGraw counts upon the superiority of his pitching staff to capture the series. There is some doubt that the Giants have the strongest pitchers and catchers. Mathewson and Meyers make a combination that is well nigh peerless, but, on the other hand, Bender and Lapp of the Athletics are an alliance to be reckoned with at all times.

But after Bender and Plank, the other star pitcher of the Philadelphia aggregation have been called on Connie Mack will find it hard to match the hurling abilities of the Giants' twirlers, Rube Marquard, Al Demaree and Frumme and Trosen.

Athletics' Strong Infield.

It is in his infield talent that Connie Mack must place his hopes to nullify the Giants' batting and the superiority of their batteries. In the outfield the teams are practically even in strength.

If Coombs, the great Philadelphia pitcher, were not out of the game through illness expert opinion would probably favor the Athletics for the championship. With him to back up Bender and Plank in the hurling department, the apparent superiority of the New Yorkers would be offset.

As it is, only the events of the immediate future will give any line on the probable winner of the big contest.

Just Like a Man.

"John," she said, "I have an awful pain in my right side. I've afraid it's appendicitis."

"Are you sure?" he replied, without looking up from his paper.

"John," she wailed a moment later, "it's getting worse."

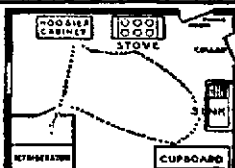

"Is it?" he asked, still interested in the sporting page.—Chicago Record-Herald.

How the Hoosier Cabinet Saved Miles of Steps

THIS kitchen before being modeled caused miles of steps every day. It is 16 feet long and 12 feet wide. The table was taken out, the pantry changed slightly and a Hoosier Cabinet added. Now the Hoosier is the center of everything with a splendid light. The old pantry is the refrigerator room with outside icing.

To prepare a meal this housekeeper takes food from the ice-chest to the cabinet, where she works without a step; then to the stove and dining room. Returning, soiled dishes go to the sink then to their shelves. She has her work done in hours less time than before she had her Hoosier.

Last Call for the Hoosier Club!

Every Cabinet Will be taken by Monday Night

You are letting a remarkable opportunity to save money and health slip through your fingers by not investigating the club plan Monday, for this year not another Hoosier Club can be organized.

So many women have grasped this great opportunity to secure a Hoosier on the wonderfully generous conditions of the club plan that it isn't likely there will be a single cabinet left of our limited club allotment by 1 o'clock Monday afternoon.

As you certainly are going to have a Hoosier sometime, doesn't it follow that you are wasting strength and time and throwing away chances for pleasure by letting this splendid opportunity slip by?

Why not make your kitchen work easy now, instead of putting in more months of drudgery?

MAKES MODEL KITCHEN

Whether your kitchen is rather old-fashioned, or your home is brand new, you need the Hoosier to save steps.

For it alone can save you the miles of steps that you must take preparing and clearing up after meals. It combines the function of your pantry and kitchen table in one spot. It puts scientific system in your kitchen work.

With everything you need in cooking within reach, instead of put away somewhere across the kitchen, your work becomes easy.

You save hours of time, miles of steps and long hours of weary standing.

ONLY COMPLETE CABINET

Every device that is practical for work-saving in a kitchen, has been tested by the Hoosier Company. The Hoosier Cabinet is the scientific result of all these experiments. It is the most important and complete labor-saving machine so far invented for women. It is the only kitchen cabinet that is complete.

Only $1.00

PUTS THE HOOSIER IN YOUR HOME

Come early Monday without fail. Join the Hoosier Club, and we will deliver your cabinet and set it up in your kitchen ready to use immediately. You merely deposit the small $1.00 membership fee, and your cabinet comes without waiting.

This $1.00 is part of the price—the low national cash price that is not increased notwithstanding the easy conditions accorded Hoosier Club Members. Balance is payable in weekly dues of $1.00, so you never miss the money.

This club method of purchase makes your Hoosier seem like a gift. The entire generous plan is under direct supervision of the Hoosier Manufacturing Company.

If we had many times these cabinets to offer this last day, we know every one would be taken.

But we can now supply only these few more.

This is going to be a lucky number for someone—you, if you get here early. Don't delay. Don't wait to make up your mind tomorrow. Decide now to be a Hoosier member and enroll first thing Monday. Nothing can be more important to your health and happiness than this lifetime labor-saver. Grasp your final opportunity to get one Monday. Make up your mind now, and Monday be quick to enroll.

THE SUGAR SCOOP MODEL

Mignon Hat Trimming
Exceptionally Smart.

ELEGANT SHAPE OF THE MIGNON.

The pliant face with small features is the only type that looks well in the hat illustrated, which is an adaptation of the snail-like shape that Frenchwomen adore. In order to make it more becoming to American women the brim in front is often broken, but in this model the full over the face is perfectly flat, and the high flare at the back is filled in with a huge black moire bow.

Ribbons, preferably moire, is used to trim most of these snail-like hats. Loops of ribbon are an easy method of obtaining height, and arranged against the upturned brim in the back they are generally becoming. Small clusters of bright colored, unnatural looking fruit give the desired touch of color to many of these shapes, and the confection in the cut has a few reddish purple plums for a garniture.

Women Healthier Than Men.

Professor Doctor Hister of Jena has sprung into fame, like Hygieia, in a single night, because he said "peekaboo" to blouses, corsets, décolleté dresses and split skirts did more good than harm. Their influence, he argued, was mainly mental. They brought variety and interest into a woman's life.

Professor Hister produces as trump card the fact that women, victims of fashion, have a higher longevity rate and a lower morbidity rate than men, who are free from fashion's ban. The exposure of parts of the body entailed by fashion makes women hardy. "If fashion exposure really caused disease, then women in particular would suffer more than men in particular from the diseases which begin with a cold; but, as a fact, women suffer far less than men from bronchitis, catarrh, inflammation of the lungs and consumption."

Dr. Hister further justifies against the hygienism which the corset and the high-heeled shoe. "The corset distributes certain bodily pressures, and it has never been shown in what way the high-heeled shoe is bad for the health. It might be argued that such shoes render a service, inasmuch as they keep thin soles out of the wet."

A Furry Suggestion.

The long fur coat will not be seen in the land of the modish this winter, so say the furriers, and in its stead will reign the smart little hip wrap, which is very dressy, and to a slender figure very becoming.

Hot Vinegar in Sauces.

If hot vinegar is used instead of cold when making meat sauce, it will greatly improve the flavor and give the sauce a better color.

THE MUSIC MAKERS QUARTET.

Six years ago the Redpath Lyceum Bureau introduced to the Lyceum the Music Makers Quartet. No quartet ever made a greater record in six years, and today the bureau has no hesitancy in standing back of the statement that the Music Makers is one of the greatest male quartets on the Lyceum platform.

During the past six years this quartet has traveled over a large part of the American continent. Out of more than fifty dates in the south in 1912 all save one committee wrote the bureau of the satisfaction which their programs had given and many of the comments were as enthusiastic as any ever received at the bureau headquarters of any company.

The four young men, Mr. Garrett, Mr. Platz, Mr. Huff and Mr. Shaw, constituting the personnel of the Music Makers Quartet—each possesses the mark of noble manhood and musical ability.

The Music Makers carry a large marimbaphone and people in all parts of the country have shown great curiosity as to the how, when, where and why of this peculiar instrument. In the modern marimbaphone powerful resonators are connected with the keys. The tones are produced with felt covered hammers. The resonators create the volume and the soft hammers beautify the quality. The effect might be said to suggest that of a powerful harp.

DR. WOODS HUTCHINSON.

One of the most prominent physicians before the American public to day is Dr. Woods Hutchinson of New York. At political and social, as well as medical gatherings, he is always a favorite speaker. The metropolitan newspapers are printing columns about Dr. Hutchinson's work and his ideas.

Dr. Hutchinson is popular and convincing wide consent because he has a message. As stated by the Allentown News he is conducting a world wide clinic and school of medicine for the sick, the near sick and the well.

Medicine is no longer a mystery and the doctor a mere drug giver. The new doctor is willing to "talk right out in meeting" because he has something of value to tell. Dr. Woods Hutchinson is a pioneer among the new doctors. The health of the people is in their own hands; the doctor may advise, but the community must cure itself.

Dr. Hutchinson is interested in educational problems, in social economics, in politics, regarding them all as branches of medicine. For years he has been a persistent fighter against the white plague, and is an authority on the subject of tuberculosis.

As a speaker he has a popular and witty style of presenting scientific subjects. He has made a special study of and is prepared to speak on the following subjects: "School Hygiene," "Child Study," "Tuberculosis," "Housing," "Food," "Water Supply," "Drainage," "Garbage Disposal," "Eugenics" and "Criminology."

An Anecdote.

A mouse being chased by a cat in Mr. Joe's brewery fell into a vat of beer. The cat sprang to the edge of the vat and called, "Aha, Mrs. Mouse, you had better have let me eat you than to drown."

"Yes," replied the mouse, "if you will save me from this you may eat me."

The cat went to the edge of the tank and extended his paw, and the mouse leaped and ran hastily into his hole.

"Come out," demanded the angry cat. "Redeem your promise and let me devour you."

"Oh, no," said the mouse; "when I made it I was in liquor."

IN TORTURE WITH TERRIBLE ERUPTION

Horribly Itching Pimples, Scratched Till Bled, Thoroughly Miserable. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. Trouble Disappeared.

Watkins, Park, Edgewater-on-the-Hudson, N. J.—"About two years ago I had a terrible breaking out of horribly itching pimples all over the stomach and upper part of my legs. I was in torture and scratched till I bled and could only sleep fitfully at night and was so glad to see the day dawn. I was feverish and thoroughly miserable. The red pimples had got a head on them like smallpox corpuscles. I rubbed them with a rough cloth, they itched so. They blended together and made sores about the size of a nickel and scabbed over. My clothing irritated the sores so that I put a damp handkerchief next to them. Some said it was the itch and others the bliv.

"I took several treatments but got no relief. I was suffering for over six weeks when I began with the Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I washed myself with Cuticura Soap and hot water every night and when I had dried myself I rubbed the Cuticura Ointment thoroughly in and to my astonishment by the end of a week the whole trouble had disappeared and the old skin brushed off. I have not had a single spot on my body since." (Signed) C. W. Charles, Nov. 9, 1912.

Cuticura Soap 25c and Cuticura Ointment 50c, are sold everywhere. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 12-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. B, Boston."

Men who shave and shampoo with Cuticura Soap will find it best for skin and scalp.

On the Fifth Avenue Easter parade, some men will wear a Bond Street model—others will wear shoes costing $8 to $10. The custom bootmakers themselves could not tell which is which.

EACH Regal Shoe style is built for a special purpose. This particular Bond Street model is designed for formal street wear. Its low and receding narrow toe, flat tread and low custom heel make it the purest type of the so-called English models, a shape that is being shown chiefly in $8.00 and $10.00 shoes.

BROOKLYN TABERNACLE

GRAVES OF GRIEVANCES.

Numbers 1114-34—Oct. 6.

The application of a righteous man available much in its working—James 3:16.

THE tabernacle remained at Mt. Sinai about a year, learning important lessons. The Tabernacle was set up as a meeting place between God and the people. God was represented by the pillar of cloud resting upon its top, and at night shining like a torch.

God's presence within the Tabernacle was seen only by Moses and Aaron, in connection with their privileged services. He was represented by the Shekinah brightness upon the Mercy Seat. Thus the Tabernacle became the center of the nation's life and interest in relation to God, who communicated to them through the mediator of the Law—Moses.

The Sin of Murmuring.

Those who accept God as their Lord should never murmur—never complain. To do so is to dispute the Divine Wisdom and the Divine promise, and to that extent to break the covenant of faith, obedience and loyalty. St. Paul reminds us that the murmuring of the Israelites carries such a lesson to us.—Hebrews 3:7-10; 4:1-11.

The Lord's dealings with Israel show us that justice, love, mercy, loyalty to God and to principle are in the Divine estimation the highest qualities, and their violation the most serious crime. If we have not looked thus at matters, it behooves us to change our viewpoint and to take the Almighty's.

This murmuring against the Lord was concerning the manna, for which at first the people had been very thankful. They allowed their minds to become so vexed that they were like children at the thought of the fleshpots of Egypt, and murmured in desiring to return to the old conditions. Little did they comprehend the situation. Had they returned to bondage, even after a year's freedom, their lot would have seemed more wretched than before.

Moses Too Greatly Burdened.

The result of this murmuring was severe upon Moses. He was the people's representative before the Lord, and the Lord's representative before the people. Heart-broken, he sought the Lord, saying that the burden was too heavy for him to bear.

Then it was that God directed the institution of the Jewish Sanhedrin—seventy Elders, to be the court of judges, responsible to the people, to deal with and to counsel them. While Moses remained head of the nation, the seventy shared his responsibility.

By Divine direction Moses made out the list of these Elders, and requested them to meet him at the Tabernacle. All but two came. These two, however, Moses as the head of the nation, and then placed a share of the responsibility upon the 70. This was indicated by their prophesying. Even the two who remained in the camp prophesied.

Quail in Over-supply.

God then sent word to Israel through Moses that he was about to send them a thirty days' supply of flesh, such as they had murmured for. Under the Lord's providence, a strong wind drove thousands of quail to the vicinity of the camp. Two days and nights the people gathered quail.

Agonies have questioned this statement, thinking it a declaration that birds fell in a solid mass two cubits high. The proper thought is that the birds, driven across the sea, were so fatigued that they flew low, about two cubits (three feet) above the ground, where they could be easily caught.

The murmurers ate so heartily that pestilence broke out among them, a fever from over-eating, called "a fire from the Lord." Many died and were buried there. The place was called Kibroth-hattavah—"Graves of grievousness." Thus the Lord permitted the unthankful to cut themselves off from further opportunity for murmuring.

The happiest mental condition conceivable is that which is satisfied with God's appointments. The spirit of discontent looks away from the Heavenly Father, longing for other food. To such the Lord grants opportunity of fasting to the full on what they crave; but the murmurers cease from being members of His family.

The Bible supplies the Manna of Divine Truth. The Truth needs to be gathered ground and blood. But it is God's provision, wholesome, nutritious, necessary for our perfecting as God's people. Yet some crave the fleshpots of Egypt—the world's theories. These God allows to come within their reach. They fill themselves with Higher Criticism and Evolutionary theories, and perish as New Creatures.

Greedy selfishness, stands connected with sin of every kind. It leads to every form of immorality, to satisfy its selfish propensities, it leads to injustice and untruthfulness in its endeavor to acquire a large share of God's blessings. It leads to anger, malice, hatred, envy, strife and murder in its endeavor to obtain a superabundant share of this world's goods. Selfishness is thus unrighteousness, and "all unrighteousness is sin."

THINGS ALL OUGHT TO KNOW

As Christian Bible Students—The Satisfactory Proof of "Why God Permits Evil?"

One of the questions which comes to nearly every thinking mind today is, "Why does God permit evil?" As we look about us in the world we observe that it is filled with sorrow and trouble, sickness and pain and every trial we could enumerate, and we cannot help wondering WHY GOD ALLOWS IT. We realize that He is almighty and that He could prevent it if He wished. We read in His Word that He is more willing to do for His children than are earthly parents for theirs, and we know how much that means; yet oftentimes it seems that those who try to do and live right have the most trouble. This question is answered very clearly in a book entitled, "The Divine Plan of the Ages." Every statement is backed by Scripture, and shows that while God does not sanction evil, He HAS HAD A PURPOSE IN ALLOWING SIN AND DEATH TO REIGN THESE SIX THOUSAND YEARS. This and many other subjects of deep interest to all of God's people are discussed fully and in language easy of comprehension.

SOOTHING STEINITZ.

Palliative Scene After Lasker Had Beaten the Old Master.

For thirty years the late William Steinitz beat every player who ventured to oppose him and was at last beaten by a mere youth. I had prophesied that his hour had come, writes Robert J. Buckle in the Chess Amateur, and at Hastings the moment he saw me he rushed in with a red-hot attack. "How dare you say Lasker would beat me?" he almost screamed in response to my outstretched hand and attempt at a smile of welcome.

Lasker had actually beaten him, as I had foretold. The crowd looked on for a few minutes in the dining room at the Queen's score of masters present. I took his arm and led him outside.

"You had no right to say it," he cried, "and I demand an explanation." He continued to protest until we had reached a quiet corner. "Why did you say it—why did you say it?" he repeated shrilly.

I waited till he had blown off steam then "Because you were sixty," I said. "That softened him." He examined me with his innocent blue eyes.

"A man of twenty-two," I continued, "after a hard day's play is fresh next morning. A man of sixty-two is still brain fagged. You were giving the odds of forty years. It was too much."

Very Handy.

Clothes—It cost me over $5,000 to give Harry that course in industrial arts. Heed—But he must be quite handy with his tools now? Clothes—Yes, and the first job he did was to put up awnings on the shady side of the house.

MRS. WORRY—They Never Think of This Before They Move.

By C. A. Voight.

STEEL CORPORATION HAS A MODEL SYSTEM TO HANDLE TRAFFIC

Rail and Water Lines are Operated on a Rigid Schedule.

PROMPT MOVEMENT IS THE AIM

Has Own Trains and Boats to Move Ore From Mines to Furnaces, but It is Also Served by Other Lines; the Bessemer & Lake Erie is a Model.

An interesting description of the United States Steel Corporation's transportation system is contained in the current issue of the Railway Age Gazette, and while of particular interest to railroad men, it gives an insight into the splendid organization maintained by the Steel Corporation. The railroad magazine places special stress upon the excellent organization that has been built up to move the immense tonnage of ore and other raw materials from point of origin to that of consumption.

The principal units in this system are the Duluth, Missoula & Northern railway, extending from the Missoula range in the vicinity of Billings and Virginia, Minn., to the docks at Duluth; the Duluth & Iron Range railroad, extending from the Vermilion range, in the vicinity of Mt. Minn., and also from the Missoula range to docks at Two Harbors, with a branch along the lake to Duluth; the Pittsburgh Steamship Company, operating between the Lake Superior docks and Lake Erie and South Chicago ports; the Bessemer & Lake Erie railroad, extending from Conneaut Harbor to North Bessemer, Pa., at the entrance to the Pittsburgh district; the Union railroad, which performs a switching service between North Bessemer and the various mills located in this road and connecting lines in the Pittsburgh district; and the Elkin, Detroit & Eastern railway, which performs a similar service in the Chicago district. The railway lines of the Corporation alone comprise 974 miles of main track and over 17,500 cars and 1,200 locomotives.

While this system handles the greater part of the ore and other products of the Corporation, in no district is the Corporation independent of other transportation lines. On the Minnesota range, the Great Northern handled 11,000,000 tons of ore last year, while large quantities of Corporation ore were loaded at Ashland, Marquette, Escanaba and other Lake Superior ports, all of which were brought to the docks by independent roads. On the lakes, the Pittsburgh Steamship Company is able to carry only 50 per cent of the Corporation's ore, and it is necessary to charter other boats by the season or trip to carry the remaining 50 per cent. Likewise, large quantities of ore are hauled by the Pennsylvania, Baltimore & Ohio, Lake Shore and other roads from Cleveland, Lorain, Ashtabula and other lower Lake ports to the mills.

At the beginning of each season a schedule of the ore requirements of the various mills showing the amounts of the various grades of ore needed and its distribution throughout the year, is prepared. From this schedule an allotment is made for each mine, based upon its facilities and qualities of ore. The various docks of the Corporation and the steamship lines are furnished with copies of this schedule showing what will be expected of them. The different parts of the system then co-operate in moving the proper quantities of the different grades of ore from the mines all the way to the furnaces at the times specified. When one considers the number of miles shipping ore, the number of mills to which this ore is distributed, the fact that over 200 grades of ore are shipping from the Missoula and Vermilion ranges alone, and the different facilities required for handling the ore, the extent and complexity of this schedule are evident.

The Pittsburgh Steamship Company operates between the Lake Superior docks and Lake Erie and South Chicago ports with 70 steamships and 21 barges in this service. The boats are built of aluminum construction and are 100 feet long by 18 feet wide and five of interior stowage space. Each boat will carry 11,000 tons of ore with a 10-foot draft of water at the South end, this being the critical point. The distance from Duluth to South Chicago is 517 miles and to Cleveland 534 miles, requiring about 12 days each way. The average detention at the head of the lakes for loading and unloading is 15 hours, and for unloading at the lower lake ports is 27 hours. The average season of navigation is about 200 days. Last year the fleet made 21 round trips.

These boats carry only Corporation ore southbound and are then able to move only about 60 per cent of the tonnage, the balance being handled by vessels chartered by the season or trip. About 11,000,000 tons of ore were moved by boats of the Pittsburgh Steamship Company last year, and about 1,200,000 tons of coal, largely for company use, was handled northbound. No attempt is made to secure traffic northbound, as the first aim is to maintain a regular service for the Corporation. This northbound coal movement on the lakes is increasing rapidly. In 1902 27,039,000 tons of ore moved over the lakes, while in 1912 this had risen to 17,555,000 tons, while the coal business increased from 5,755,000 tons in 1902 to 23,335,000 tons in 1912. As the above figures show, the coal business is handled almost entirely by private boats.

The most interesting portion of this entire system from the transportation standpoint is the Bessemer & Lake Erie railroad. Built originally between Conneaut Harbor, Ohio, and Butler, Pa., a controlling interest in it was obtained by the Carnegie Steel Company in 1899, and the line was extended 42 miles from Butler to Bessemer, giving it access to the Carnegie Steel Company's works at Braddock, Homestead and Duquesne through the Union railroad. The through line was opened for business in the fall of 1907. The total tonnage handled by it in 1907 was 1,161,554 tons, of which 500,318 tons was ore, and 659,236 tons other freight. This road now carries more than that tonnage monthly during the navigation season. The distance from Conneaut Harbor, O., to North Bessemer, Pa., is 142 miles. Topographically it has the least favorable location of any of the large ore-carrying roads between Lake Erie and Pittsburgh, crossing eight water sheds.

A study of the Bessemer is very interesting from the traffic standpoint. The main traffic is, of course, ore southbound, while coal, finished steel products and miscellaneous traffic are moved northbound. The ore traffic has increased from 3,662,117 tons in 1901 to 5,628,340 in 1912. In the same period coal traffic northbound has been developed from 1,000,000 tons to 3,782,521 tons, and miscellaneous traffic from 1,761,781 to 2,017,371 tons, the coal moving mainly by up the lakes and across Lake Erie to Canada by ferry and other water routes, while finished steel and miscellaneous products are turned over to the Erie, Lake Shore, Nickel Plate and Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh roads for various destinations.

Thus, while the ore traffic southbound has increased 145 per cent in 11 years, the percentage of all traffic moving northbound has risen from 25.2 per cent to 34.5 per cent. This northbound traffic has practically all been developed by the road, and with the further development of coal properties now under way it is expected that the northbound traffic will equal, if not exceed, the southbound traffic within two or three years. It is also interesting to note that the traffic density in ton miles per mile of line has increased from 3,470,719 in 1901 to 49,000,000 in 1912, this latter figure being exceeded by only one road in this country, the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie. This latter road has four tracks over a large portion of its line, while the Bessemer has only two tracks, with three stretches of single track amounting in all to 14.5 miles. In connection with this unusually high freight density the passenger train revenue per mile of line for 1912 was $2,028.68, all of which is derived from distinctly local traffic.

At North Bessemer the traffic for the furnaces and steel mills of the Corporation is turned over to the Union railroad for delivery to the mills or industries, or to connecting lines. The yards at each mill are under the direct charge of a general superintendent of transportation, who has supervision over the delivery of cars after delivery by the Union railroad. As an example of the amount of traffic handled, an average day's receipts at the Edgar Thomson mill is 15,000 tons of ore, 2,400 tons of limestone and 1,800 tons of coke.

The various units of transportation are under the direct charge of a local officer as president or vice president, who devotes his entire time to the one unit. General supervision of the entire system is concentrated under the direction of D. K. Kerr, vice president of the United States Steel Corporation.

CHAPTER V.

I lay down across my bed at six o'clock that morning, but I was too tired and worried to sleep, so at seven I got up and dressed. I put on two pairs of stockings and heavy shoes, for I knew I was going to do the Ekimov set again that day and goodness knows how many days more, and then I went down and looked at the door of my room. She hadn't been there yet, either. She called to me in an undertone to come in, and she was lying propped up with pillows, with something pink around her shoulders and the light lamp burning beside the bed.

I walked over to the foot of the bed. "They're here," I said. She sat up, and some letters slid to the floor.

"They're here!" she repeated. "Do you mean Dorothy?"

"She and her husband. They came here last night at five minutes to twelve. Their train was held up by the blizzard and they won't come in until they see you. They're hiding in the shelter-house on the golf links."

I think she thought I was crazy. I looked at the door and saw that Mrs. Hutclins' (Patty's old nurse) room opened off it—and then she came over and put her hand on my arm.

"Will you sit down and try to tell me just what you mean?" she said. "How can my sister and her husband of a husband have come last night at midnight when I saw Mr. Carter myself not later than ten o'clock?"

Well, I had to tell her then about what Mr. Pierce was and why I had to get him, and she understood almost at once. She was the most understanding girl I ever met. She saw at once what Mr. Sam wouldn't have known in a thousand years—that I wanted to save the old place—not to keep my position—but because I'd been there so long, and my father before me, and had helped to make it what it was and all that.

"But here I am," I finished, "telling you about my troubles and forgetting what I came for. You'll have to go out to the shelter-house, Miss Patty. And I guess you're expected to fix it up with your father."

She stopped unsatisfactorily her long braids of hair.

"Certainly I'll go to the shelter-house," she said, "and I'll shake a little sense into Dorothy Jennings—the abominable little idiot! But they needn't think I'm going to help them with father; I wouldn't if I could, and I can't. He won't speak to me. I'm in disgrace, Minnie." She gave her hair a shake, twisted it into a rope and then a knot, and stuck a pin in it. It was lovely. I wish Miss Cobb could have seen her. "You've known father for years, Minnie; have you ever known him to be so—so—"

"Devilish," was the word she meant, but I finished for her.

"Unreasonable!" I said. "Well, once before when you were a little girl, he put his cane through a window in the spring-house, because he thought it needed air. The spring-house, of course, not the cane."

"Exactly," she said, looking around the room, "and now he's putting a cane through every plan I have made."

Well, I left her to get dressed and went to the kitchen. Tillie was there getting the beef tea ready for the day, but none of the rest was around. "Tillie," I said, "can you trust me?"

She looked up from her beef. "Whether I can or not, I always have," she answered.

"Well, can I trust you? That's more to the point."

She put down her knife and came over to me, with her hands on her hips. "Tillie, I don't want you to ask me any questions, but I want four raw eggs in a basket, a pot of coffee and cream, some fruit if you can get it when the chef unlocks the refrigerator room, and bread and butter. They can make their own toast."

"They?" she said, with her mouth open.

But I didn't explain any more. I scribbled a note to Mr. Van Alstyne, telling what had happened, and put it under his door, and then I met Miss Patty in the hall by the billiard room and I gave her some coffee from the basket, in the sun parlor. It was all dark, although it was nearly eight o'clock, and nobody saw us go out together. It was still snowing, but not so much, and the trucks we had made early in the morning were still there, mine off to one side alone, and the others close together and side by side. Miss Patty did not say much. She was holding her chin high and looking rather angry and determined.

They were both asleep in the shelter-house. He was propped up against the wall on a box, with the rubber carriage robe around him, and she was lying by the fire, with Mrs. Moody's shawl over her head and her hand under her head. Miss Patty stood in the doorway for an instant. Then she walked over and, leaning down, shook her sister by the arm.

"Dorothy!" she said. "Wake up, you wretched child! And shake her again. Mrs. Dicky groaned and pined, and opened her eyes one at a time. But when she saw it was Miss Patty she sat up at once, looking dazed and frightened.

"You needn't pinch me, Patty," she said, and at that Mr. Dick awakened and jumped up, with the carriage robe still around him. "For heaven's sake, Pat, don't cry. I'm not dead. Dick, this is my sister, Patricia."

Miss Pat looked at him, but she didn't bow. She gave him one look, from his head to his heels.

"Dolly, how could you!" she said, and got up.

It wasn't comfortable for Mr. Dick, but he took it much better than I expected. He went over and gave his wife a hand to help her up, and still holding her, he turned to Miss Patty.

"You are perfectly right," he said. "I don't see how she could myself. The more you know of me the more you'll wonder. But she did; we're up against that."

He grinned at Miss Patty, and after a minute Miss Patty smiled back. But it wasn't much of a smile. Suddenly Mrs. Dick made a dive for Miss Patty and threw her arms around her.

"You darling!" she cried. "I'm so glad to see you again—Pat, you'll tell father, won't you? He'll take it from you. If I tell him he'll have a headache or something."

But Miss Patty set her pretty mouth—both those girls have their father's mouth—and held her sister out at arm's length and looked at her.

"Listen," she said. "Do you know what you have done to me? Do you know that when father knows this he's going to annul the marriage or have Mr. Carter arrested for kidnapping or abduction?—whatever it is." Mrs. Dick pucker her face to cry, and Mr. Dick took a step forward, but Miss Patty waved him off. "You know father as well as I do, Dolly. You know what he is, and lately he's been awful."

"He can't annul it," said Mr. Dick angrily. "I'm of age. And I can support my wife, too, or will be able—soon."

"Dolly's not of age," said Miss Patty wearily. "I've sat up all night arguing it out. He's going to annul the marriage, or he'll make a scandal anyhow, and that's just as bad. Dolly!" she turned to her sister imploringly.

"Dolly, I can't have a scandal now. You know how Oscar's people have taken this, anyhow; they've given in, because he's isolated, but they don't want me, and if there's a lot of publicity now the newspaper will send him to Africa or some place, and—"

"If you really want me to be happy," Miss Patty finished, going over to her, "you'll go back to school until the wedding is over."

"I won't leave Dicky," she swung around and gave Mr. Dick an adoring glance, and Miss Patty looked discouraged.

"Take him with you," she said. "Isn't there some place near where he

"Not Pat!" she said, horrified, "and Father! Here!"

could stay, and telephone you now and then?"

"Telephone!" said Mrs. Dick scornfully.

"Can't leave," Mr. Dick objected. "Got to be on the property. Look here, Miss Patricia, why can't we stay here, where we are? It's very comfortable—that is, it's livable. They've got somebody to take my place in the house."

"And father needn't know a thing—you can fix that," broke in Mrs. Dick. "And after your wedding he will be in a better humor; he'll know it's over and not up to him any more."

Miss Patty sat down on the soap box.

"We might carry it off," she said. "If I could only go back to town! But father is in one of his tantrums, and he won't go, or let me go. The ideal—with Aunt Honoria on the long-distance wire every day, having hysterics, and my clothes waiting to be tried on and everything, I'm desperate."

I put the eggs on a platter and poured the coffee, and we all sat around the soap box and ate. Everybody felt better for the meal, and we were sitting there laughing and talking and very cheerful when

Mr. Van Alstyne opened the door and looked in. His face was stern, but when he saw us, with Miss Patty on her knees toasting a piece of bread and Mr. Dicky passing the tin basin as a finger-bowl, he stopped scowling and looked amused.

"They're here, Salike," he called to his wife, and they both came in, covered with snow, and we had coffee and eggs all over again.

Well, they stayed for an hour, and Mr. Sam talked himself black in the face and couldn't get anywhere. So, finally he gave up and said he washed his hands of the whole affair, and that he was going to make another start on his wedding journey, and if they wanted to be a pair of fools it wasn't up to him—only for heaven's sake not to cry about it.

And when the Dicks found they were not going to be separated we had more coffee all around and everybody grew more cheerful.

Oh, we were very cheerful! I look back now and think how cheerful we were, and I shudder. We sat around the fire and ate and laughed, and Mr. Dick arranged that Mr. Pierce should come out to him every evening for orders about the place—if he accepted, and everybody felt he would—and I was to come at the same time and bring a basket of provisions for the next day. Of course, the instant Mr. Jennings left the young couple could go into the sanatorium as guests under another name and be comfortable. And as soon as the time limit was up, they could declare the truth, claim the sanatorium, having fulfilled the conditions of the will, and confess to Mr. Jennings—over the long-distance wire.

Well, it promised well, I must say. Mr. Sam left on the ten train that morning, looking lemon-colored and mottled. He insisted that he wasn't able to go, but Mr. Sam gave him a headache powder and put him on the train, anyhow.

Yes, as I say, it promised well. But we made two mistakes; we didn't count on Mr. Thoburn, and we didn't know Mr. Pierce. And who could have imagined that Mike the bath man would do as he did?

After luncheon, when everybody at Hope Springs takes a nap, we had another meeting at the shelter-house, this time with Mr. Pierce. He looked dazed when I took him to the shelter-house and he saw Mr. Dick and Mrs. Dick and the Mr. Sams and Miss Patty. They gave him a lawn-mower to sit on, and Mr. Sam explained the situation.

"I know it's asking a good bit, Mr. Pierce," he said, "and personally I can see only one way out of all this. Carter ought to go in and take charge, and his—wife ought to go back to school. But they won't have it, and—there are other reasons." He glanced at Miss Patty.

Mr. Pierce also glanced at Miss Patty. He'd been glancing at her at intervals of two seconds ever since she came in, and being a woman and having a point to gain, Miss Patty seemed to have forgotten the night before, and was very nice to him. After everything had been explained, including Mr. Jennings' liver and disposition, she turned to him and said: "We are in your hands, you see, Mr. Pierce. Are you going to help us? And when she asked him that, it was plain to me that he was only sorry he couldn't be helping.

"If everybody agrees to it," he said, looking at her, "and you all think it's feasible and I can carry it off, I'm perfectly willing to try."

"Of course," said Mr. Dick, "I expect to retain control, you understand that, I suppose, Pierce? You can come out every day for instructions. I dare say sanatoriums are hardly in your line."

"Oh—oh, well no, hardly," he said. "I've tried everything else. I believe it can't be worse than carrying a bunch of sweet peas from garden to garden."

Mr. Dick stopped talking and turned suddenly to stare at Mr. Pierce. "Sweet—what?" he said.

Everybody else was talking, and I was the only one who saw him change color.

"Sweet peas," said Mr. Pierce. "And that reminds me—I'd like to make one condition, Mr. Carter. I feel in a measure responsible for the company; most of them have gone back to New York, but the leading woman, Miss Sammons, is sick at the hotel in Finleyville. I'd like to bring her here for two weeks to recuperate. I assure you, I have no interest in her, but I'm sorry for her; she's had the mumps."

"Why, you've just had them, too, Dicky," said his wife. They all turned to look at him, and I must say his expression was curious. Luckily, I had the wit to knock over the breakfast basket, which was still there, and when we'd gathered up the broken china, Mr. Dick had got himself in hand.

"I'm sorry, old man," he said to Mr. Pierce, "but I'm not in favor of bringing Miss—the person you speak of—up to the sanatorium just now. Mumps, you know—very contagious, and all that."

"She's over that part," Mr. Pierce said; "she's only needs to rest." "Certainly, if she isn't well, bring her up," said Miss Patty. "Only won't she know your name is not Carter?"

"She's discreet herself," Mr. Pierce said. "Her salary hasn't been paid for a month, and as I'm responsible, I'd be glad to see her looked after."

"I don't want her here. I'll pay her board at the hotel," Mr. Dick began, "only for heaven's sake, don't—"

He stopped, for every one was staring.

"Why in the world would you do that?" Miss Patty asked. "Don't be ridiculous. That's the only condition Mr. Pierce has made."

CONNELLSVILLE IS WELL REPRESENTED IN THE SHOW WORLD

Natives are in Box Office, on Stage and Under the Tents.

SOME HAVE WON HIGH FAME

Memory of Hugh Cannon, Who Made "Bill Bailey" Famous, Still Lingers in Movies, S. S. Porter is Now Commanding Figure; Others on Circuit.

Connellsville is well represented in the show world. In the box office, on the stage, and under the big circus tents, men and women are pursuing their vocations. Some of them are near the top, others are trailing among the thousands who have as yet failed to gain fame, but every one is doing his work earnestly and without ostentation.

Probably the best known of all is the one now dead—Hugh Cannon, author of "Won't You Come Home, Bill Bailey," one of the most popular songs ever written. Cannon was the son of Mrs. May Smith Robbins, herself an actress of note in days that are past and still a resident of Connellsville. Cannon died in Detroit a few years ago. He was not only a successful song writer, but a black-face comedian of considerable merit.

In the moving picture world is L. S. Porter, and his brother, Melville Porter, both former residents of Connellsville and natives of the community. L. S. Porter is one of the most prominent men identified with the independent moving picture interests. He is now vice president of the Famous Players, a company headed by Charles Frohman, the theatrical magnate.

In the box office is Frank Holland, Jr., son of Frank Holland, of the South Side. "Buck" Holland, as he was better known among his companions here, is now private secretary to Harry Davis, head of the Davis amusement enterprises in Pittsburgh and the leading amusement man of Western Pennsylvania.

The stage holds many number of Connellsville men and women, some of them in "local" others in musical comedy, but the bulk of them are doing time in "vaudeville," from "big time" to the short ones, circuits, one or two are behind the scenes. There is Frank Tierney, for instance, who was seen here last season in "Three Twins." Tierney is starring under the Askin management of Chicago, producers of musical comedies. Nearly everyone remembers "Buck" McHugh and his two children. They were on "big time" in vaudeville, as the high class circuits are known. E. A. McHugh as he is properly known, for a long time had a permanent place on the Keith circuit, and with his children has a decidedly clever act.

George Fee is another local product making good. He appeared with the original company in "The Deep Purple," which held the boards on Broadway for two seasons. He has the leading male role.

Frank Rosenberger graduated from an express wagon to vaudeville. He is making Canadian towns with a juggling act that is clever. He was seen here at the Arcade a few years ago. Paul Harrison, son of Captain John Harrison, the Baltimore & Ohio conductor for years on the Mount Pleasant branch, is a comedian visiting houses on the Gus Hun time.

Joseph Cunningham, in his younger days proud of his associations with the "South Side Saxons," is a stage manager now, being with "The Contender Law," doing western cities. He is said to be one of the highest-priced men on Wm. A. Brady's staff of managers. Frank Powers, for a long time stage manager at the Colonial, was on the road for a time, but was last connected with Buffalo Bill's Wild West and Pawnee Bill's Far East shows as manager of an advertising car.

Frank Anselm, a local boy, is in vaudeville. He is booked out of Youngstown, O. On Reynolds Field is doing a song and dance act. In Louisville, while her husband, Low Fields is in Montreal. Robert Roberts, whose home is in Vanderbilt, has made good as a female impersonator and is working on the Klondike vaudeville circuit out of Lancaster.

Charles Robinson is well known by the younger generation, having been into theatricals by way of the Connellsville Opera Club. He is interested in moving pictures, operating state rights for feature films. Frank Tipton, formerly located here, is in the same line of work.

The Berg Sisters, formerly of the Young Shire, but late residents of Uniontown, have separated. Two of them are with a musical comedy company in Atlantic City and the other two with Hugh McCann and Willie O'Leary, who have a "School Days" act that made good in the smaller vaudeville houses in this section and elsewhere. S. M. Kelly, better known as "Duch," is a "musical mope" doing time in vaudeville. Katherine Logan is in musical comedy.

Harry Percy, who gained local fame in Dago roles, is on the Sullivan & Constance's time with "The Statues Dance," a remarkably clever act that will remain on the big circuit for a long time. Ernest E. Younklin, a South Connellsville product, is in the south with a juggling act.

Bill McLaughlin, a blackface comedian, is now in Pittsburgh as manager of the Liberty vaudeville booking agency. George Robbins, another son of Mrs. May Smith Robbins, is in stock. Elmer Oberer, is with the Keyes Sisters.

Tom M. Poole was seen here last season in "The Three Faces and the Girl." She is related to the Poole of Ruffalo and is a star.

Harry D. Smetz is assistant manager of Tortuga Park, the principal amusement resort at Parkersburg, W. Va., managed by M. W. Seft, former manager of the Colonial.

With the circuses are Mary Siller, a bareback rider of merit with Barnum & Bailey. Miss Siller was one of those injured in the wreck at Ottumwa, Ia., a few weeks ago. James Glendinning, well known as a bull rider before his entry into the show world, has been with Pawnee Bill for six seasons. Edward E. Booth is cook with the Siller-Peto circus. J. H. Freeman, superintendent of baggage horses, has been with Barnum & Bailey for 15 years.

At least two colored residents of the community are making good on the stage. Everyone remembers Mary Black, for years a cook at Pittsburgh's restaurant. Mary is a vocalist with one of the "Uncle Tom's Cabin" companies in New England. Mary is heard from every once in a while and always to effect that she is a mighty good vocalist. William Fox is doing good in vaudeville as a female impersonator. He is also a song writer and one of his compositions has been used by Nat Wills, the tramp comedian, with great success.

Col. Isaac Strelbick, has been manager and owner of Stetson's "Uncle Tom's Cabin" since Little Eva was a small girl. He has been treasurer for several circuses. His boyhood days were spent in Connellsville. Artie Palmer is a Connellsville citizen who has been on the stage for many years. He has a musical act.

George Reed of the West Side, is going up rapidly. Last year he was with "The Pink Lady." George Wilson, vocalist, is in vaudeville, booked by the Lake Shore Vaudeville Agency of Cleveland. A. G. Salandria, harpist, is now on the intimate circuit of Whirling.

Reference to Connellsville folks in the show world would be incomplete without a word or two of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Stout, both of whom have confined their artistic activities to directing the unusually successful Connellsville Opera Club, which has set a new mark in home talent productions.

Both have been in grand opera but were principally engaged in light opera companies. They passed several years in some of the successful stock companies giving the lighter productions. Their last professional engagement was with the "Herald Square Opera Company." Mr. Stout was its manager. The last tour was through the south. Mrs. Stout has sung in companies with several of the grand opera stars while "Pete" enjoyed the reputation of being the "biggest bass on Broadway."

Doan's Kidney Pills acted promptly and the relief was permanent. This remedy has been used by others of our family for backache and kidney trouble with good results.
